

CoachingLane

Leadership Development & Executive Coaching

Sarah Lane

Sarah is a dynamic executive coach and facilitator with a mix of commercial and HR experience spanning 17 years, specialising in Leadership and Talent development. Utilising her expertise in psychometric testing and practical psychology, Sarah combines both her professional experience and study with her personal experience of business, leadership, coaching and training to achieve major shifts for individuals, teams and organisations.

Having operated at a senior level acting as coach and advisor to many of the top 30 leaders within Blue Chip organisations, Sarah brings experience and a pragmatic approach to helping individuals and teams perform at even greater levels. With previous roles including managing regional sales teams through to later qualifying as an auditor, Sarah connects with business leaders from a position of real insight.

Executive Coaching and Mentoring

A Master Coach with proven expertise in working with Main Board Directors, Chief Executives, Senior Managers and entire Leadership and Management teams across the private sector.

Talent Development

Sarah has worked with many top performing organisations in helping them to define their key talent strategy. Working with Executive Boards to identify and develop succession for business critical roles within their organisations. She regularly facilitates and is invited to speak at International Talent Development conferences and events.

Leadership and Management Development

Sarah has a passion for facilitation and delivery. She has personally designed and delivered unique Management and Leadership development programmes to a wide section of Commerce and Industry.

She has developed a reputation for creating and assisting change. From Directors in the Board room to operational customer facing teams, Sarah is regularly called upon to help get to the heart of issues and make a substantial difference to team and individual communication, cohesion and performance.

As an executive coach Sarah has made a significant difference to the outlook and capability of business managers and leaders across a spectrum of industries including retail, finance, communications and entertainment. Her outstanding facilitation skills make her a real catalyst for change.

T: +44 (0) 7815 063 895 E: sarah@coachinglane.com www.coachinglane.com

Coaching Lane Ltd. Registered in England & Wales 6176178 VAT no. 898 7835 30